The Polished Professional

Although it is true that we notice someone's appearance initially, it does not take long before a person's outward appearance can be overshadowed by a negative attitude or a less than sunny disposition. If you are interested in mastering all the elements of professionalism; image, attitude, communication, and confidence, join Chicago's Business Etiquette Experts for this entertaining and practical workshop on Professionalism. In this session we will cover:

- How image, attitude, communication, and confidence all fit together
- Defining decorum
- Assessing your own professionalism
- Techniques for exhibiting professionalism through your:
 - attitude
 - behaviour
 - image
 - communication
- Determining the role of integrity, accountability, responsibility, and reasonability
- How to be a professional in different scenarios
