The Program and Tools

Experienced trainers know that an effective learning process integrates awareness, knowledge and skills. Leveraging decades of international training experience, we have incorporated these three key elements into a scalable, reusable and extremely practical learning program of tools designed to maximize knowledge retention and real-world application of valuable insights and skills.

Who can benefit from the Diversafari training program?

There is a growing body of data to support what we see first-hand time and time again: diversity training has the potential to increase productivity, sales, retention and customer satisfaction. And these benefits ultimately translate into a stronger bottom line.

LIMITED TIME OFFER: $5850.00 plus taxes includes Train the Trainer workshop, all training materials for up to 4 participants, and facilitator travel expenses. EMAIL events@civilityexperts.com for more information.
